

February 2016

We have been coming to Sri Lanka for 12 years now, and this is the first time we have ever stayed in a villa. After such a wonderful experience here we are completely sold on the villa concept and will certainly be doing it again.

The villa itself was fantastic - very simple but highly functional layout that has a great feel and atmosphere to make you feel instantly at home. The location is superb - the fabulous beach at your front doorstep is idyllic, and the location to get to and from Galle and other places further East is ideal.

But as many others have said before us, what really made the stay quite special was the smiling faces of Pathi and Prabath every time we saw them. Both were extremely friendly and attentive to everything we needed, including arranging in-house massages for us and cooking some wonderfully tasty meals at all times of day - the local food and the local flavours were delicious every time!

Thanks to all for a wonderful holiday and we look forward to seeing you again!
